To be able to provide child care
in base housing for more than ten hours per week and on a
regular basis, you
must be a licensed FCC Provider.

Fairchild is very fortunate to have outstanding individuals on base that provide quality child care in their homes. These FCC Providers have gone through background checks, a rigorous application process and thorough orientation. They maintain quality care in their homes by acquiring additional training throughout the year and are consistently inspected by the FCC Coordinator.
